

Australian Industry Energy Transitions Initiative

The Australian Industry Energy Transition Initiative supports Australian industry to develop pathways and take action towards net zero emissions across critical supply chains of the Australian economy.

The initiative is jointly convened by:

Working in collaboration with:

With funding from:

The Australian Industry Energy Transitions Initiative brings together leaders from industry and business to coordinate learning and action on net zero emissions supply chains.

With support from:

